CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 8.-The body of John Hay lies in state in the great hall of Chamber of Commerce, guarded by oldiers of Troop A, of which the late Secoffin rests on the exact spot where the remains of Senator Hanna were viewed by thousands of people. A plain bier, draped in black bears the plain black cas-

On it are a spray of palm leaves from the dead diplomat's summer home, The Falls, and a magnificent wreath of La France roses and sweet peas, sent aboard the funeral train as it passed through Rochester, N. Y., by the citizens of Rochester. Wreaths came to-day from Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese Minister at Washington; Mrs. Whitelaw Reid of New York, Troop A and the Ohio National Guard.

The train bearing the body reached Glenville early this morning in a special coff a car. It remained in Glenville until 10 o'clock, when, unattended except by Samuel Mather, it was brought into this city at the Union station, where it was met by a committee of the prominent citizens of Cleveland and escorted to the Chamber of Commerce building by soldiers.

Mrs. Hay wished, above all, that the body should not lie in state for public view. The people of the city will therefore have no opportunity of seeing the face of the dead Secretary of State. The body will lie in state in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce building for two days, but exposed only to the eyes of the troopers who will stand guard over the coffin.

At the early hour in which the train reached Glenville station there were few persons waiting at the little building beside the tracks. The two special cars had been on the Lake Shore Limited. The first car was a Boston and Maine funeral

COUNTERFEITERS PARDONED.

PRESIDENT RELEASES KINDIG AND JACOBS FROM PRISON.

They Were Convicted of Counterfeiting Revenue Stamps and Sentenced to 12 Years and to Pay a $5,000 Fine, Which the President Thought Excessive.

WASHINGTON, July 3 .- The most notable exercise of the pardoning power during the administration of President Roosevelt was made known to-day through the announcement that the President had commuted to expire immediately the sentences of William Kendig and William Jacobs of Lancaster, Pa.

In the spring of 1899 Kendig and Jacobs who were prominent and highly respected citizens of Lancaster, were arrested on charge of counterfeiting. The arrests caused a profound sensation, since they were made on the day following the arrest of Arthur Taylor and Baldwin Bredell in Philadelphia Taylor and Bredell had made the cleverest counterfeit bill ever produced in this country, and it was shown hat Jacobs and Kendig were engaged in the counterfeiting business with them. In the fall of 1897 a bank officer in Philadelphia discovered a counterfeit $100 "Monroe head" silver certificate. It was sent to the Secret Service division in the Treasury Department and examined by experts. but the engraving was so fine and all the workmanship so carefully executed that the ability of the experts was taxed to the utmost to find the one or two slight flaws which had aroused the suspicions of the Philadelphia bank officer.

Within the next few weeks twenty-six of the spurious notes were discovered in circulation, and the situation became so serious that the Secretary of the Treasury called in the whole Government issue of $100 silver certificates and warned the public against accepting any silver note of that denomination. It was not until 1899 that the makers of the bad bills were discovered, and on April 18 Taylor and Bredell were arrested as the perpetrators. They were formerly expert engravers employed by private firms in Philadelphia. They were tried, found guilty and sentenced to serve several years in the penitentiary. Their several years in the penitentiary. Their terms recently expired.

On April 19, 1899, Jacobs and Kendig were arrested. Both were cigar manufacturers, and the trial showed that although they had had nothing to do with the issuance of the counterfeit $100 silver certificates, they had arranged with Taylor and Bredell to furnish them counterfeit internal revenue stamps for placing on boxes of cigars. The counterfeit stamps actually used amounted to many thousands of dollars. Jacobs and Kendig were sentenced in June. 1900, to serve a term of of dollars. Jacobs and Rendig were sentenced in June, 1900, to serve a term of twelve years each in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000.

The President gives as his reason for commuting the sentence to expire immediately that it was in his opinion exception.

· INTERSTATE DECISION.

Commission Holds That It Has Jurisdiction Over Refrigerating Car Rates.

WASHINGTON, July 3 .- A decision of some interest, in view of the alleged private car abuses on railroads, was handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission to-day. The case was that of charges for transportation and refrigeration of fruit by the P re Marquette and Michigan Central railroads.

The commission holds that railroad companies are required at common law to furnish suitable transportation facilities, and it follows that the railroad companies in this case, holding themselves out as common carriers of perishable fruit, must provide the necessary refrigerator cars for the traffic; that during the performance of the transportation the car is the car of the railroad company using it, and its measure of responsibility as to the sufficiency of the car is the same, whether it obtains the car by purchase or lease; that a railroad company holding itself out as a carrier of a commodity which can only move under refrigeration is ordinarily in duty bound to furnish that refrigeration, for the icing is not a mere incident of the transportation service, but is a part of the service itself; that refrigeration, being incumbent upon the carrier as a part of the transportation, the charge for that service stands like any other charge for transportation, and it is the duty of the carrier to publish, file with the commission and observe its refrigeration charges, over which the commission has the same juris-diction as of any other charge for trans-portation; that it is not within the province portation; that it is not within the province of the commission to prescribe the method or kind of refrigeration charges which shall be adopted by the carrier.

In this case the commission finds that the reasonable refrigeration charge on Michigan fruit shipped to interstate destinations from points in Michigan, based upon the cost of the ice actually used, would be $2.50 per ton.

For various reasons stated by the commission, including the consideration that the commission is without authority to fix rates for the future, no order is issued RLACKWELL'S BRIDGE TIE-UP. Iron Workers Won't Let Union Men Work Until Harrisburg Fight Is Settled.

President Buchanan of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who ordered the strike on the Blackwell's Island Bridge against the Pennsylvania Steel Company, arrived in this city yesterday from Harrisburg and had a conference with International Secretary Johnston. The company had only about fourteen men at work on the bridge pending the arrival of castings which would have enabled it to put about 170 more ironworkers on the job. The castings came yesterday, but the company could get no iron workers, the union refusing to supply men and the iron contract is still tied up. Buchanan said last evening:

"We will keep up this fight if it lasts for a year, until the original strikers in Harrisburg are paid union wages. The strike here, with a number of others throughout the country against the Pennsylvania Steel Company, is in sympathy with the Harrisburg men."

Men are on strike against the company, he said, as follows: Washington, 135 men; Scranton, 50; New Haven, 125; Kansas Scranton, 50; New Haven, 125; Kansas City, 90, and about 150 men in several towns in Maine. These strikes keep thousands of persons idle in a number of other trades. Henry Sharkey, formerly president of Local No. 2 of the housesmiths' organization, which preceded the present Housesmiths and Bridgemen's Union, has been for some years superintendent of construction in Guatemala for large bridge contracts there. He is now in New York and, according to the officers of the housesmiths, is taking a large number of union smiths, is taking a large number of union bridgemen to Guatemala.

HOTEL BELMONT DEADLOCK. Kirchen Outfitters Strike to Compel Sub-Contractor to Recognize Their Union.

There is a mix-up over the arbitration agreement of the Building Trades Employers' Association regarding a strike of the range mounters and kitchen outfitters at the Hotel Belmont in East Fortyfourth street. The general contractors are Marc Eidlitz, Son & Co., and the range mounters who struck were employed by the Duparquet, Huot & Moneuse Company, as sub-contractors.

The company employed union men at the hotel, but there was a strike at its shops for recognition of the union and the employees went out at the hotel. All kitchen work is stopped, as the firm is prevented in the meantime from employing non-union men. There is a difference of opinion as to whether, the general contractor being a member of the Building Trades Employers<sup>12</sup> Association, it would or would not be a violation of the arbitration agreement if non-union range mounters to work, though by a non-association firm.

CHICAGO WOODWORKERS OUT. Strike Affects 7,200 Men-The Open Shop

Is Involved. CHICAGO, July 3 .- Fourteen of the largest factories engaged in the manufacture of fixtures were partially closed to-day, on account of demands made by the w odworkers' union. The shutdown affected 2,200 wood-workers directly, and about 5,600 men who had to quit on account of the trouble. With the 3,200 teamsters on strike this makes a total of more than 10,000 strikers in Chi-cago, which is the largest number since the cago, which is the largest number since the big stockyards strike last summer.

The causes of the strike or lockout are the refusal of the employers to grant an increase of two cents an hour and the question of the open shop.
